

Made in USA and Sustainable Textiles

ONLY!

Your attitude is everything.

Why? For humanity.

Here's the short of it:

After far too many quality issues with other printers, we started our own screen printing operation in early 2012 to ensure every print was at retail quality. It didn't take long to see that we could offer this service to others. Screen printing appeared to be a very lucrative endeavor, but it didn't add up.

Using a full quarter of the world's pesticides to grow cotton that requires a pound of produce to make one shirt? Then to be shipped across an entire ocean to be assembled, and shipped back to our country to sell for $1.30? And everyone got paid for farming, harvesting, shipping, manufacturing and distributing? No way.

With some research, we learned about the working conditions where the shirts are made, factory fires, false fair trade certifications, the impact of cotton on our environment and so much more.

We also came to the conclusion that nothing is going to change in this industry unless someone, anyone takes action to turn things around. That's one thing we can do. Therefore, we're doing it.

It's simple supply and demand. The more orders a supplier receives for USA-made or eco-friendly textiles, the more they'll offer and the narrower the price gap will get between them and the alternatives.

And the more you contribute by ordering GOOD apparel products, the better you'll feel. So let's think of people and our planet in every deal!

This is about much more than selling T-shirts...

OUR Magic MINIMUM 24

The minimum order for each individual design is 24 pieces at the same screen size (can't mix adult and toddler sizes).

We call it our Magic Minimum because the numbers add up so fast, it's like magic. The versatility of the designs combined with the color freedom allows you to reach 24 pieces in at least a million ways.

For example, you could take our Happy Camper design in a Tan print. Put it on four large, standard fit, Navy T-shirts; two medium, ladies fit, Brown premium hoodies; six small, ladies relaxed fit, Plum T-shirts ... you get the idea.

As long as it's the same design in the same print color at the same screen size (adult items or infant/toddler/bags) and just make sure the print color will look good across all the items. You can see how it could get overwhelming with so many options, but we're here to help you with that. We think it's fun.

★ We can now come to YOU for your event or fundraiser with our new MOBILE PRESS!

Both kids and adults are intrigued by the process of screen printing, especially when they get to do it themselves. Learn and create with our mobile setup. We supply everything. You only pay the wholesale cost of the shirts and supply an outlet (so we can cure the ink).

The shirts are ready to wear and wash in a matter of minutes, and they have even more meaning to you when they're printed by YOU.
